This camp is for YOU!

My PI Graduates Learn
Leadership Qualities
Communication Skills
Teamwork Abilities
Decision Making

University of Illinois Extension, YMCA of Kewanee and OSF HealthCare Saint Luke Medical Center invite teens ages 13 to 19 to a disaster preparedness training camp!

My PI Camp Information:

During hands-on sessions, teens will complete FEMA's CERT Training, a PREP + 6 Community Service Project, participate in a specialized Technology and Disaster Simulation, become weather aware, and learn about a variety of different career tracks.

Participants will strengthen their teamwork and leadership qualities while gaining skills that will let them positively impact their communities during a disaster!

Registration information:

Applications are available at the YMCA in Kewanee, at the University of Illinois Extension, 358 Front Street, Galva, or apply online at <https://mypiillinois.org/students/student-application> The training is free and includes all meals. All participants will leave with a My PI Emergency Disaster Backpack filled with supplies and instructions to assist in the event of an emergency.
